A MARICOPA COMMUNITY COLLEGE

LAND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Scottsdale Community College (SCC) credits the diverse Indigenous people still connected to the land on which we gather. Our college resides on the tribal territory of the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community (SRP-MIC). SRP-MIC is a federally recognized nation — one of 22 Arizona Indigenous nations and one of 574 across the United States. Attached to this physical space is a painful history of forced removal and the resulting intentional genocide of its Indigenous people. We remain appreciative of our ability to teach, learn and serve in a space of such importance and reverence.

SCC acknowledges the land on which we are situated today as the traditional land and home, established by Executive Order on June 14, 1879, of two distinct tribal nations: the Onk Akimel O’odham (Pima) and the Xalychidom Piipaash (Maricopa) people. We take this opportunity to thank the original caretakers of this land. We offer our respect to their Elders and to all O’odham and Piipaash people of the past, present and future.

Dear Graduates, Families and Friends,

Artichokes – you made it!

Let me congratulate you on behalf of the entire faculty and staff at Scottsdale Community College on your tremendous achievement. The degree or certification you earn today is a testament to your hard work, dedication, and commitment and is worthy of this evening's wonderful celebration!

We at SCC are extremely proud to have been on this journey with you. As teachers and mentors, it has been our privilege to watch you learn, grow, and prepare to step into the next chapter of your life. Thank you very much for choosing to be an Artichoke.

We hope that your appetite for learning continues to grow. Use the knowledge gained at SCC to venture forth boldly and craft the life you've always envisioned for yourself.

Thank you to all the family, friends, and other supporters who have helped our graduates reach this milestone. You put the community in Scottsdale Community College!

Graduates: here's to your success and a lifetime of continued learning. Congratulations!

Sincerely,

Eric Leshinskie, Ed.D.

Dear Graduates,

All of the Scottsdale Community College faculty are so proud of your accomplishments and are delighted that we can celebrate with you today. Our work together is both the focus and source of joy for everyone at SCC and the faculty are all proud to have played a role in your education journey. Your time at SCC represents only part of this journey, and we know that you will use the knowledge and skills you developed here to improve yourselves, your families, and our community. Only through hard-work, determination, and good judgment were you able to make it to this point and with what you learned here, we know that you are better able to overcome any obstacle and help create a brighter future for all of us.

Thank you for being a part of Scottsdale Community College, and we are honored to welcome you to the Artichoke family.

Congratulations Class of 2024! Tonight, we celebrate your accomplishments that will allow you to move forward with your next steps into exciting new endeavors!

On behalf of the Maricopa Community College District Governing Board, I want to commend you for your hard work and for your success. I wish you well as you go into the workforce or future educational opportunities. Scottsdale Community College has been a strong community partner and a positive force in empowering student success for over 50 years. We are proud to add you to the SCC alumni ranks!

Best wishes,

ACADEMIC ATTIRE

The custom of wearing distinctive dress for academic ceremonies goes back to the Middle Ages when people dressed in keeping with their class: nobility, clergy, or third estate. The clergy were the literate class; hence, early academic costume was that of the Church. A heavy and dark gown was worn at all times. Hoods were also necessary during European winters because the buildings where scholars lived, studied and taught were cold.

Oxford, Cambridge and some of the Scottish universities still require students to wear a gown, both on and off the university premises, as do two or three small church-related American universities. In general, however, academic costume is worn in the US by persons taking part in ceremonies: commencement exercises – and, at various inauguration ceremonies, such as the installation of a president, the conferring of an honorary degree on a distinguished guest, or the laying of the cornerstone of a building. Also, some Protestant clergymen wear academic costume in the pulpit.

The Bachelor of Arts degree is recognized by a solid gown, often black, closed in front and with long sleeves. The gown of a Master of Arts graduate is also usually solid and has long sleeves with a short slit near the elbow to free the hand and forearm. Generally, the Doctor's gown has velvet panels five inches wide extending down the front edges to the bottom. There are also three horizontal velvet bars on each sleeve. Panels and bars are often the gown's color but may be of the color indicating the field of study in which the degree is granted.

The square mortar board is worn for most degrees. Bachelor/Associate of Arts students start the ceremony with the tassel on the right side and will be asked to move it to the left side, signifying their official graduation. Tassels can range in color from that of the gown to that of the field of study to that of the institution.

The greatest degree of symbolism is shown by the hood. The Master's hood is typically of black material, and it is three-and-one-half feet long with a three-inch velvet border. The lining is typically in the color or colors of the institution. The Doctoral hood is four feet long with a five-inch velvet border that can also be lined with the colors of the institution granting the degree. The border of the hood designates the area of specialty such as white for Arts, light blue for Education, dark blue for Philosophy, and scarlet for Divinity.

Although the styles of academic regalia have changed over the centuries, the pageantry involved in academic ceremonies lends dignity to these solemn occasions. Here at SCC, additional designation is given to students graduating with a specific GPA (white cord, 3.5 – 3.69 GPA; red cord, 3.7 – 3.89 GPA; gold cord, 3.9 – 4.0 GPA); Veteran students (red and white stole); Honors students (green medallion); Phi Theta Kappa students (gold stoles and tassels); and DECA students (blue and white cord). Regalia received at Maricopa Convocations may also be worn with SCC regalia.

ALUMNI

Scottsdale
Community
College

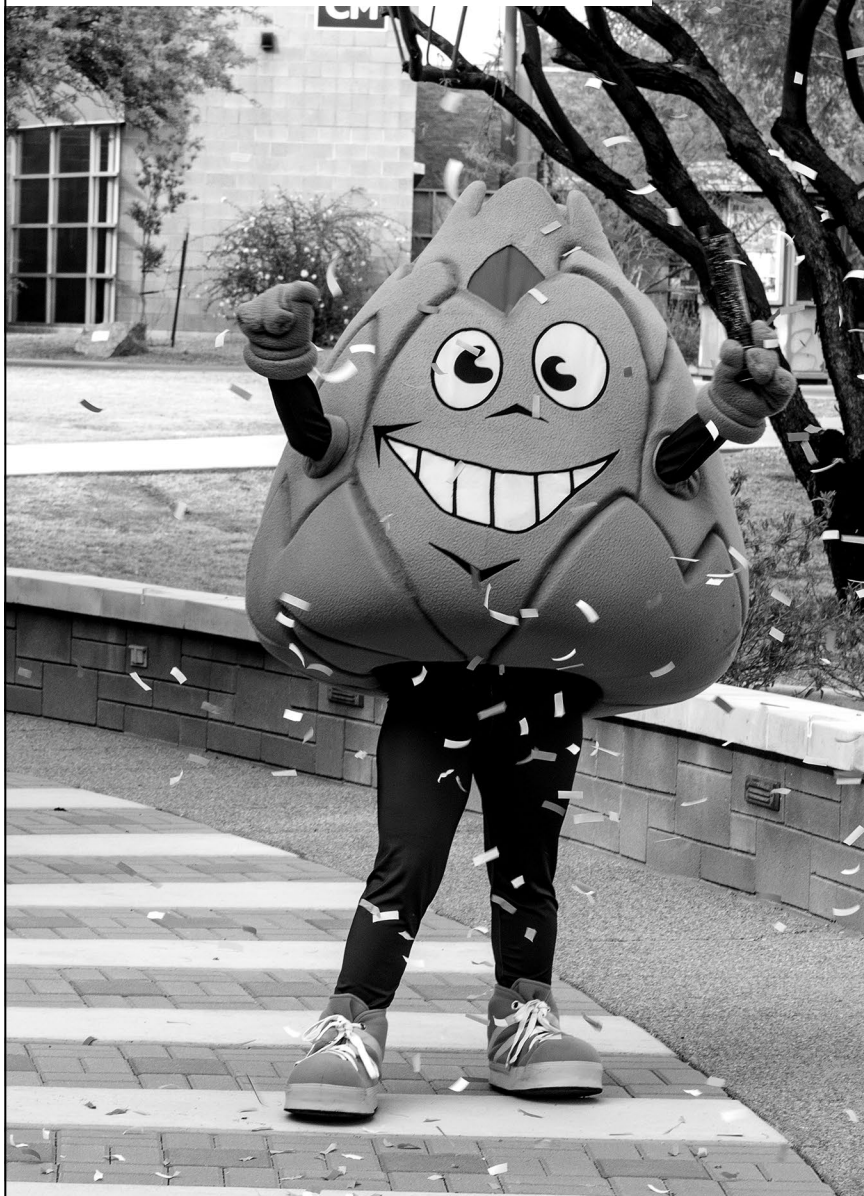

As a new graduate, Scottsdale Community College welcomes you to stay connected with the SCC Alumni Engagement Program (SCCAEP). The alumni program is a network of proud Artichokes supporting each other and encouraging new students to engage in all our college has to offer. SCCAEP members are active in communities from local to global and contribute their time and talent to make a difference, mentor students, support scholarships and champion the major initiatives of our college.

Membership is free and includes news from SCC, special events and networking opportunities, and a number of benefits. Please visit our Alumni webpage at scottsdalecc.edu/alumni-friends to learn about the myriad of opportunities available to help you stay engaged with the college and the community we serve.

May you continue the tradition of excellence and embark on a future made bright by the power of learning and SCC's commitment to your lifelong educational, professional and personal growth.

Congratulations and best wishes!

CONGRATULATIONS, GRADUATES!

The Maricopa County Community College District (MCCCD) is an EEO/AA institution and an equal opportunity employer of protected veterans and individuals with disabilities. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, or national origin. A lack of English language skills will not be a barrier to admission and participation in the career and technical education programs of the District.

The Maricopa County Community College District does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, disability or age in its programs or activities. For Title IX/504 concerns, call the following number to reach the appointed coordinator: (480) 731-8499. For additional information, as well as a listing of all coordinators within the Maricopa College system, visit www.maricopa.edu/non-discrimination.
